great party events—the impeachment and the nomination of a Presidential tively say. Party men of one side or the other, and all who pretend to be weatherwise in the political atmosphere, could predict to their own satisfaction just what would come to pass; but the truth is that no one can divine the secret currents of a people's thoughts—no one can accurately estimate the bidden forces that yet seem to move the whole

Hundreds of the Radical "rank and file" made the same declaration. The latter have shown themselves houest men, and are now cooperating with the Democratic party in its effort to put a quietus on that mon-strous doctrine and all its sombre off shoots. The former, strangers to honest political impulses, are now supporting the very dogmas they then denounced. It is past denial now that the Radical party is in favor of "impartial suffrage" —more than this, in favor of extending to the blacks the same rights and privileges exercised by the whites. It declares that negroes shall vote; negroes shall hold office; negroes shall have unrestricted school privileges; negroes shall intermarry with the whites; negroes shall eat at the same table, ride upon the same seat, and do and enjoy everything and all things by law or custom tolerated in or conferred upon the white race.

box tells all. The seam cross out at an election and the mind of the people is shown. Hence the significance of this election in Oregon determined with unquivocal clearness for the democrate in the nomination of Grant by the radicals. Grant, to put it at it is lightest, is not so great a man, not a name so theroughly satisfactory to the people that they will venture another four years of radicalism to have him. He is too sydently only the gilding of the pill, and the people thrust him aside. And this is settled, not on the arguments or declamations of partisans, and officers on the success of a reconstruction plan.

They demanded that Ulysses S. Grant should not receive the Chicago nomination, the Chicago and the grant should not receive the Chicago nomination, the list a political stake unless his party came up to it. What does he says?

they declare their purpose to resent it.

General Order No. 11 outraged every decent man in the land who was not blinded by political or religious zeal and prejudice. Men of this character were not, however, among the Republican leaders. Hon. George H. Pendleton, then in Congress, feeling that an honored, industrious and enterprising element of our population had been foully wronged, stood up in his place and asked the people's representatives to wash their hands of an act so cruel and illiberal in a leader of the Union army, by passing upon him a vote of censure. There was no excuse for or palliation of the outrage offered, yet that Radical Congress refused, then and there, to declare the order infamous, putting themclare the order infamous, putting them-selves upon the record as hostile to the Jews, and as indorsers of the outrage just perpetrated upon them, These things are remembered, and the movement now on foot among the Jews to make their resentment tell in the comto make their resentment tell in the com-ing election, is no more or less than their very manhood demands. The en-tire Jewish population of St. Louis, numbering 2300 votes, have published their protest against the nomination of Grant, giving bold expression to the be-lief that, in view of the insult to their race, standing as it does, uncalled for and unprovoked, there is not one among them so forgetful of his manhood that he can entertain, for a moment, the idea of facor of making voters or jurors of ne-grocs, nor of qualifying them to hold office, nor intermarrying them with white people, and I will say in addition to this, that there is a physical difference between the white and the black races, which I believe will forever forbid the assisting in the election of U. S. Grant

In all the large cities like movements are on foot—in Pittsburg, Cincinnati, Philadelphia, Baltimore and New York powerful organizations are being formed—and the result will be that the vote of the Jews will be thrown in a body against the man who sought to degrade and pun-ish them for the reason only that they are what they are. All honor, say we, to the Israelites of the country, for the a change that points toward a positive Abraham Lincoln, where are you now?
